NOTICE OF SELECTMEN'S MEETINGS

The Selectmen will meet at the Town Hall in Meriden on the second Saturday of each month at 10:00 a. m.

A Word from the Selectmen

The reassessment of all taxable property was made in 1962. The last general reappraisal of property was made in 1950 by the State Tax Commission. The Selectmen were notified by the State Tax Commission that a tax rate of $8.00 or more per hundred dollars valuation would not be approved by them. It was found upon making the annual list in April that the rate would be approximately $8.10; therefore the Selectmen were obliged to perform their duty as assessors to determine a rate that would be approved, either by a general reappraisal or a percentage increase across the board. After careful consideration it was the opinion of the Board that a reassessment should be made, in order to make the assessments more equitable. Your Board of Selectmen personally examined all of the real estate and other taxable property owned by the individual taxpayers. They secured the assistance of the State Tax Commission on revaluing the property of Kimball Union Academy and the electric companies.

The Board wishes to thank the people of the town for their cooperation and courtesy to them in making the survey. There have been fourteen protests in writing filed with the Board, and four have carried their complaints to the State Tax Commission out of a total of over 500 owners.

The Special Town Meeting held on Nov. 6 provided $10,000.00 to be matched by the State of New Hampshire for repairs, etc., to the Covered Bridge at Meriden. It is anticipated that the work will be done by the State during the coming spring or summer.

The T. R. A. money was used on surfacing the River Road, and the Duncan Fund (Gas Tax) was used on the Westgate and Daniels roads, and at Hell Hollow.

MERIDEN LIBRARY

In 1962 our Library won Honorable Mention for its work during National Library Week. The prize was a $15 volume, "American Sail," by Laing, which our Librarian went to Concord to receive.

As a result of the work of the Friends of the Library, a second room in the Library has been completely reconditioned and is now being used for moving pictures, exhibits, meetings and book discussions. In connection with the new room the Library was granted $50 in State Aid with which blackout curtains and the moving picture screen were purchased.

On October 24 the Friends of the Meriden Library was one of the groups honored by an award from the N. H. Library Trustees Association. Special mention was made of the work of Mrs. Ira Townsend, President of the Friends since its beginning.

The Trustees and Librarian wish to thank all the generous and interested people who have given books and memorial gifts during the year. Heartfelt thanks go to the Friends of the Library and the Junior Friends for their outstanding work in 1962.

Town Planning Board Report

The Town Planning Board has undergone some changes in the last year. Arthur Chivers, whose interest and concern are gratefully acknowledged, felt it necessary to resign due to uncertain health, and has been replaced on the Board by Carleton Jones, Meriden. Ira Townsend pleaded pressure of other duties, and was replaced by David Cassedy, Plainfield. The newly-elected chairman is Norman Wilder.

Several meetings have been held during the year, particularly with a view to a continuing analysis of the ordinance now in force, to determine if its provisions have room for improvement, particularly with regard to enforcement and specific annoyance possibilities. It is probable that prior to next year's Town Meeting hearings will be held to discover townspeople's suggested amendments, and it should be noted by the Town that the Board intends to maintain a steady watch over encroachment possibilities that could injure the town's desirability.

Many will have been aware that surrounding communities, under the pressure of larger towns near them expanding, are finding it necessary to tighten planning and zoning regulations, which become particularly important in towns like ours where the tax load and resulting revenue are so largely determined by the character of residential real estate. It is your Board's intention to keep a constant check on possible construction of a potentially non-conforming nature; in this, the co-operation we have received from the Selectmen is appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID S. CASSEDY, Clerk.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

Foreword

During the past year one of the most thorough studies in education ever undertaken in New Hampshire took place. It was a study of the problems of education and was made by the "Interim Commission on Education", established by the 1961 session of the General Court. A preliminary report has been made and a final report will be forthcoming during this session of the legislature.

This could be, and probably will be, one of the most important reports made on education in New Hampshire during the past fifty years. The study had to do with public education, organization and financing, and with higher education in the state. My brief remarks will be limited to public education and the effect the report might have on this Supervisory Union and this District. A major recommendation of the Commission is for larger administrative units, either through reorganization or through the so-called Area Regional Concept, where regional high schools will be established in cities that are natural centers of business, industrial and social activity. The number of supervisory unions in the state would be reduced from the now existing forty eight to thirty four, based on the regional high school concept. Some cities, of course, will have more than one public high school.

Our local Supervisory Union, No. 32, is one of the few that would remain intact, due to the number of students in our schools and the fact that Lebanon serves somewhat as a center for the three districts in the Union. Lebanon High School would be the regional high school for the three districts, except possibly for the students in Plainfield who go to Windsor. The Commission does not favor the cooperative organization at this time, but rather would encourage development of the regional high school through incentive aid similar to what is now given to cooperatives. I feel that the districts with the regional high school would have to have some definite commitment through contractual procedure if enlargement of buildings were necessary to accommodate tuition pupils.

The number of elementary buildings in the Union would be reduced from seven to four in the future. This was partially done through our own reorganization last year, when we actually formed one school, using the two buildings. If we were to have further reduction in the number of schools, it would mean that the District would send its elementary pupils out on a tuition basis. This should be considered at some future date when additional facilities are needed in the elementary schools. The first step would be for tuitioning grades seven and eight to Lebanon and Windsor, to give pupils the opportunity for better articulation with the senior high school grades they will be attending.

Thoughts and recommendations made in the preliminary report relative to financing will be mentioned in the section of state aid.

Some of the proposals of the Commission will be adopted by the current session of the General Court. The report is long and detailed and I have mentioned only one or two areas covered. Many of the ideas will be further studied by the legislators before any final action is taken. However, as our society becomes more complex and the costs of education continue to rise, cities, towns and school districts will of necessity find themselves working closer together.

SIX MONTHS LATER

A year ago the District voted to reorganize the two elementary schools to provide for better instructional facilities for the students. This was a very significant step to be taken to improve our school system. While all things have not gone as smoothly as hoped, it is sincerely felt that gains made thus far are sufficiently great to continue this arrangement.

It is true that we have had some problems relative to transportation and the length of time some pupils have to wait for school to open and at the end of the day. Some of the transportation problems will be corrected with improved discipline on the buses and a change in attitude on the part of a few parents. Your School Board, myself and other members of the staff will be studying means of improving the time schedule of the buses for another year. If it can be done before the present year is completed, the necessary changes will be made.

Let's examine the other side of the ledger for a moment. The program that is now being offered is much better than the curriculum of the past. Teachers with strong subject backgrounds are now teaching in grades seven and eight and I am sure that when achievement tests are given later in the year, the results of the tests will reflect this improvement. The program of studies for the upper grades also prepares the students better for high school in that they get greater depth of subject matter and develop sounder study habits. The inclusion of French in the junior high grades will help when these pupils have to select the language at high school. In fact, some of the students will be advanced into higher levels of the language.

The amount of time that a teacher can spend with each child in the other grades has doubled over last year. The results of this extra time will be noted when tests are given in the spring, at which time I am sure that the achievement of the pupil will be greater than previously.

I can also report that the departmentalization and single grade per teacher made it possible for us to secure very capable teachers. In fact, the experimental aspect of this move was challenging enough to one or two of our teachers to make them turn down more lucrative positions elsewhere. Another year will tend to correct and improve any current weaknesses in the program and I sincerely believe the pupils will profit far more under this type of organization than the "two-grades per room" system that had been used.

BUDGET

The proposed budget for the school year 1963-64 is $104,029.17 as compared to $102,942.70 for this current year. This represents an increase of $1,086.47 which is explained below. The amount to be raised by local taxation will be approximately $3,755.49 more than last year and represents an increase of approximately ten cents on the tax rate.

The increases in the budget are as follows: (1) the School Board and I are recommending that a teacher be employed on a full-time basis for a special classroom of students in the age range of 6-10, who have a difficult time learning in the normal class situation. The District will get reimbursement for this room which will partially pay for the additional funds in the budget. A program that will meet the needs and abilities of the pupils will be developed so that each one can progress at a rate consistent with his own ability; (2) salaries for teachers have again been increased to keep our staff on as comparable a basis with other communities as possible. The 1962-63 average in Plainfield for women is $4,016, while in communities with similar characteristics the state average in 1961-62 was $4300. For men the average in the state for towns was $4,400 for the same year, while in Plainfield the average for the two men is $4,300 for the current year. The average salary for all teachers in New Hampshire for 1962-63 is $4,802. I know that each of you will agree with me that we want and demand the best possible teachers for our children. To get such teachers and to hold them we must offer attractive salaries; (3) Another major increase in the budget is for tuition to Lebanon and Windsor. This item has increased by nearly $3,000 due to an increase in rates as well as an increase in the number of students attending high school. This is shown in the section on tuition; (4) the last major increase in the budget is an expenditure for providing better heat in the lunch room at the Plains School. This area is quite cold for the students when they eat their lunches and the District was quite severely criticized by the state for this condition. This can be corrected by having a circulating pump installed on the heat line and lowering the radiation.

TUITION

The number of tuition students expected to attend Lebanon next year will be forty two or about the same as this year. In Windsor we can expect forty one, an increase of seven or eight over this year. The tuition rate in Lebanon next year will be $450, while the rate in Windsor will be $410.

As in the past, an additional student has been included in the budget to cover anyone who might move into the District during the summer. This past year we picked up three or four for whom we had not planned.

TEACHERS

The District was very fortunate in securing the services of good replacements this past summer. Mr. Gerald Knight was employed as principal of the White School. He also teaches English, Social Studies, French, Music Appreciation in addition to his duties as principal. Mr. Knight is a graduate of Hamline College in Minnesota and has done graduate work at Boston University and Plymouth Teachers College. Mr. Stephen Beaupre was hired to teach math and science in grades seven and eight in Meriden. Mr. Beaupre, a graduate of Plymouth, also teaches remedial reading and handles physical education at the school on an informal basis. To fill the vacancy in grade six, Mrs. Mary Cassedy was employed. Mrs. Cassedy formerly taught at the secondary level in English and languages, but has been taking courses to prepare her for the shift to the elementary grades. In grade three at the Plains School, Mrs. Donna Beaupre was hired as teacher. Mrs. Beaupre is also a graduate of Plymouth, having majored in the primary grade level, and is a fine addition to the staff. As helping teachers the District was fortunate in having Mrs. Linda McKim, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and Mrs. Goran, a graduate in the field of psychology from Brooklyn College. Mrs. McKim was released at Christmas time to enable her to accept a full-time position in Lebanon.

I would like to state that the four teachers who remained from last year's staff are doing excellent work and we are fortunate in having such fine people as Mrs. Spalding, Miss Chapman, Mrs. Corette, and Mrs. Hendricks. The District is indebted to these dedicated teachers for the faithful years that they have given Plainfield.

REVENUE AND STATE AID

It is expected that there will be a balance of $3,500 in the budget at the end of the school year in June. This will go toward reducing the tax assessment from the town. In addition, it is expected that the aid given by the state will be increased this year. At least this has been indicated by both political parties and the action of the General Court seems to substantiate these promises. Additional aid can be expected in the Foundation Aid Program and Building Aid Program and possibly the District will receive some aid in the field of transportation. As mentioned in the section on the budget, we will also get financial aid for each student if a class is set up for the special student. We will also receive funds for the first time from the Federal Government for children whose parents work at the VA or Cold Regions Lab at Hanover.

It was expected that our Foundation Aid would be increased about three thousand dollars next summer. However, we can expect about the same amount as received this year unless the formula is changed or more money is raised by the state for this program. The town's assessed property valuation as equalized has increased by $200,000 over last year and this eliminates virtually all of the additional money that was expected.

As mentioned last year, the property owner is taxed very heavily, thus more help must come from the state level if we are to keep our standards of education high or if we wish to improve them. It is suggested that each of you urge your representatives to the General Court to take the necessary action to provide additional funds for needy districts such as Plainfield. Our tax base is very limited compared to other districts that have the same or a smaller number of pupils than Plainfield. The average amount of equalized valuation behind each pupil in the state for 1960-61 was $24,564. In Plainfield for the same year the figure was $13,675. This means that Plainfield has to tax its property owners at a higher proportionate share to give a somewhat equal education to its pupils.

WARRANT

Two special articles appear in the warrant this year for action by the voters at the annual meeting.

The first is to establish a capital reserve bus fund for the purpose of setting aside funds for the purchase of our next school bus, scheduled for the year 1965. Considerable work was done on Bus No. 4 this past summer and it is planned to keep this vehicle another year. By establishing a reserve fund for the purchase of the next bus a better schedule of budgeting money will be set up for large expenditures. It is felt that with the purchase of the next bus a more systematic schedule of buying buses can be followed.

The second article is by petition and asks for funds to be raised by the District to help support the hot lunch program in the two schools. An amount not to exceed $550 is requested for this purpose and will be paid periodically at the rate of .03 cents a meal as reported to the state. As the number of students eating is limited, the programs have difficulty in operating without financial loss. Unless the District is willing to aid in some financial way it will be necessary to raise the price of lunches. It is felt that the lunch program is an integral part of the school program and should have some aid from the District.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the School Board, the teaching staff, custodian, bus drivers and citizens for the interest each takes in the schools of the District. I appreciate the cooperation and help that each has given me personally and it is through such help that we can jointly solve some of our problems.

Respectfully submitted,

GORDON R. TATE

Superintendent of Schools.

Report of Teacher Consultant

To the School Board and Citizens of Plainfield:

I would like to take this opportunity to discuss the special classroom which is recommended by the School Board and Superintendent.

I'm sure we all realize that there are great variations in the ability and maturity of children, mentally as well as physically. The mental ability of some youngsters will not allow them to master the work expected in a normal classroom situation. Other children are immature and need more time in readiness and remedial work before going on.

The percentage of retention, particularly in grades 1 and 2, has been high because of one or both of the above mentioned reasons. The school district policy is to repeat children in the primary grades (not more than two years) to insure, insofar as possible, that the children have acquired the fundamental skills needed in grasping the content subjects of the upper grades. The children who are retained need much individual help which the regular classroom teacher, who is concerned with all levels of ability, often finds difficult to administer. The School Board, realizing the need for additional help has made the efforts of a part time teacher available to lighten the load on Mrs. Corette.

The establishment of a special class is a giant step in the direction of providing for children who need more specialized individual help. A full time teacher will be employed to teach this class which will be located in the basement room of the Plainfield school. The cost of establishing this classroom will not be prohibitive. The salary of the part time teacher coupled with the state funds available for special classrooms will amount to approximately one-half the new teacher's salary.

The success of the new classroom will depend in no small measure upon the person selected to teach it. This person should be cheerful, patient, and have a thorough understanding and "feeling for" the student having learning difficulties. Added to all these excellent personal qualities she must be a highly skillful teacher.

Children will be assigned to the special classroom when it is agreed by all school personnel that it is in the best interests of the child. The child's total profile, which includes his health, academic, test, and anecdotal record, will be carefully studied before assignment.

School personnel feel that there is a great need for this classroom. However, it also needs the wide acceptance and support of the community if it is to be a highly effective program. The main advantages of this program may be summarized briefly as follows:

1. It allows special attention for children who need additional help.
2. It allows more time for the immature child to develop.
3. It allows a curriculum which is more suitable for the slow learning child.
4. It allows the regular classroom teacher more time to spend with children who are academically ready to proceed at grade level.

To summarize, the new class will be a room where each child will be taught the skills necessary to enable him to progress insofar as his native ability will allow. With your support, this program will provide better education for all children in your schools.

Report of the Principals

The current academic year might well prove to be a hallmark of education for the Town of Plainfield; this has been the first year in which we have operated under the system adopted at the last School Meeting. Under this new setup, there have been a few trials, but mostly it has been a year in which we, the principals, have noted some marked upturns.

Social change is difficult to come by; for some townsfolk, the new academic setup was looked upon with caution. Nonetheless, once the initial period of adjustment was completed, students, faculty and the administration all rapidly found themselves in the midst of a very healthy school design. The advantages of this new school design, along with some disadvantages, have been debated by many. It is not our purpose here to delve into them. It may well be pertinent, however, to state that some of the disadvantages, as foreseen a year ago, have been eliminated or minimized. We speak here, in the main, of some aspects of transportation.

Because of having one grade per classroom this year, many new developments have taken place. Certainly not the least in importance is the departmentalization on the junior high level. Other concrete developments of this year have been the decreasing of the student loads for each teacher, the fact that now each teacher is able to spend far more time with the individual pupils, the more concentrated approach within a given subject area and the expansion of the curriculum. Regarding the latter, the following subjects have been added to the junior high curriculum: Physical Education and Health (as separate from Science), remedial Reading (using the SRA program), Fine Arts Appreciation and Elementary French. The latter is an elective course with twenty-four students enrolled. No question can be made to the expansion of the curriculum; we endeavor and hope to further increase it in another year. Definitely a second level French course will need to be offered.

The reports of the School Board and the Superintendent are included herein. Concern for the future is well stated in these reports; we, as principals, too are concerned for the future. Once an improvement has been achieved, it then is no time for the citizenry to remain complacent. We are interested in growth and in continued progress. One weak segment in our present setup is the lack of library facilities. It is with a mark of progress that we can state that absolute efforts are being made to correct this weak point. By the end of the current academic year, it is planned that library facilities at both the Plain and the White Schools will be in operation. These libraries are not intended to duplicate the existing Village Libraries, but rather to offer specific resource materials in specified subject areas for all students.

A Student Council, under the Presidency of Brian O'Leary (grade 6), has been elected in the White School. This group will handle many activities for the entire school and give real experience in leadership for the several members. Although this Council is new in organization, it is already at work planning and directing a Winter Carnival and a School Newspaper. It is assumed that this Council will be but the beginning of expanded efforts and activities for the student body.

Because of the new school design, monies have been saved in the purchase and duplicating of teaching aids. It stands to reason that a science course on the junior high level will be necessarily be more introspective and exacting than one given on the elementary level. Presently one set of equipment is needed, rather than formerly, when two were needed. Equipment for a Science Laboratory is expensive. Fortunately, we have been able to utilize monies appropriated through the National Defense Education Act for this purpose. These monies have also allowed us to purchase the foreign language materials.

On both the elementary and junior high levels, visual aids (such as slides and filmstrips) have augmented social studies and science classes. Previously, there has been but a small amount of time available for teacher-pupil preparation of lessons which is particularly helpful for the students who have difficulty comprehending the text. Also, researchers have proclaimed that retention of material seen is noticeably higher than material merely read.

Educational television, another teaching and visual aid, is being introduced in the White School at this time. It is unfortunate that reception of the ETV (Educational Television) channels two (Boston) and eleven (UNH, Durham) is weak. However, CBS channel three (Burlington) and ABC channel eight (Mt. Washington) offer educational programs. Use of television in the classroom is designed to supplement weaknesses in our curriculum and to broaden the classroom's procedure and methods in certain subject areas where, because of the lack of some facilities, it is impossible to offer the broadest possible course. Educational television helps greatly to fill the gap. By the 1963-64 academic year, educational television will be an integral segment of our program. Although only one building is now equipped with television, it is hoped that in the near future, the Plain School will also have this teaching aid.

It is hoped that by reading this Report of the Principals, the citizenry will realize the improvements made by their willingness to adopt the present school design. Constant efforts are being made to give a maximum value for the tax dollar for education in the Town of Plainfield. It is in the interest of continued support from the townspeople that we submit this report.

Report of School Nurse

The health report of the school children for this year was very good. Communicable disease was almost non-existent with only four cases of chicken pox and three cases of measles.

Physical examinations were not scheduled for this year but plans are made to have Dr. Whitney in the fall of the 1962-63 school year.

The children's teeth show the results of the last three years of dental repair clinics. During this time 126 children's teeth were repaired and work completed. A Fluoride Clinic was also held in Meriden for grades one through four. Mrs. Elsbeth Dow, dental hygienist, performed this service in the evenings after her day's work in the Claremont School System.

Mrs. Sullivan, the Sullivan County Tuberculosis Nurse, came to our schools in October, 1961, and gave Patch Tests to 252 children and adults. I'm happy to report that all tests were negative.

Vision tests were given all children. Nineteen were found defective, ten of which were new cases. All were examined by eye doctors following the school tests. I arranged for five of these children to have financial care by the Sight Conservation Department of the State Public Welfare.

Hearing tests were given all new children including first graders. One child failed to pass and was subsequently examined at Hitchcock Clinic.

I had twenty-six conferences with parents at home or in school regarding the children's health. Also I made arrangements for one child to have a complete physical including neurological examination and for another child to have a complete cardiac work-up, both at Hitchcock Clinic.
